Annual Report

Agricultural Projects, 2022

- Overview of the Agricultural-Pastoral Project 2022

Agriculture is one of the determinants of the Syrian economy, agricultural productive activities, and animal husbandry are one of the main means of livelihood for a large number of families, especially those living in rural areas.

The agricultural project aims to support families who use agriculture and livestock as their main livelihood. The program includes securing a range of production supplies and services related to agriculture, small animals, and other additional tools and materials such as fertilizers, feeds, seeds, saplings, chickens, sheep, agricultural equipment and tools.... etc.

Not only has the crisis seriously damaged major agricultural infrastructure, but it has also continued to create harsh conditions that have increased the vulnerabilities of many families, including displaced persons, returnees, and host communities. The program encourages the return of displaced persons to their areas and villages of origin or reintegration with the host communities.

- Project workflow:

During 2022, SSSD implemented agricultural services in Rural Damascus, Homs, Hama, Tartous, Aleppo, and Idleb in coordination with MoSAL, MAAR, and their directorates to regulate the quality and quantity of interventions.

So that the coordination was as follows:

- ✓ Identify the needs of beneficiaries in the targeted areas.
- ✓ Integrate the Ministry of Agriculture's vision and its strategic plans for agricultural projects.
- ✓ Obtain the necessary approvals.
- ✓ Establish local committees within the areas of intervention.
- ✓ Share the list of potential beneficiaries from the targeted areas by the directorates of agriculture and in coordination with local agricultural committees.
- ✓ Determine the inputs' specifications according to the Ministry of Agriculture's technical standards criteria.
- ✓ Conduct awareness sessions that are related to the inputs to be provided.
- ✓ Inspection of inputs and materials before the distributions and conducting necessary tests.
- ✓ Receipt of materials and delivery to beneficiaries.
- ✓ Monitoring process and impact assessment on beneficiaries.

- Beneficiary's selection criteria:

The criteria of selection were developed in coordination with the donors and agricultural directorates, so that all persons of interest to SSSD, including displaced persons, returnees, and members of the host and affected communities, are included to participate and benefit from this program. The selection depends on the consideration of vulnerabilities and their capacities, including current or past experience in agriculture and animal husbandry.

The selection criteria included:

- Persons who have access to cultivable land.
- Persons with experience in agricultural, pastoral, or animal husbandry.
- Persons who have a suitable place to raise livestock.
- Persons who have access to irrigation water.

Priority was given to the following vulnerable groups:

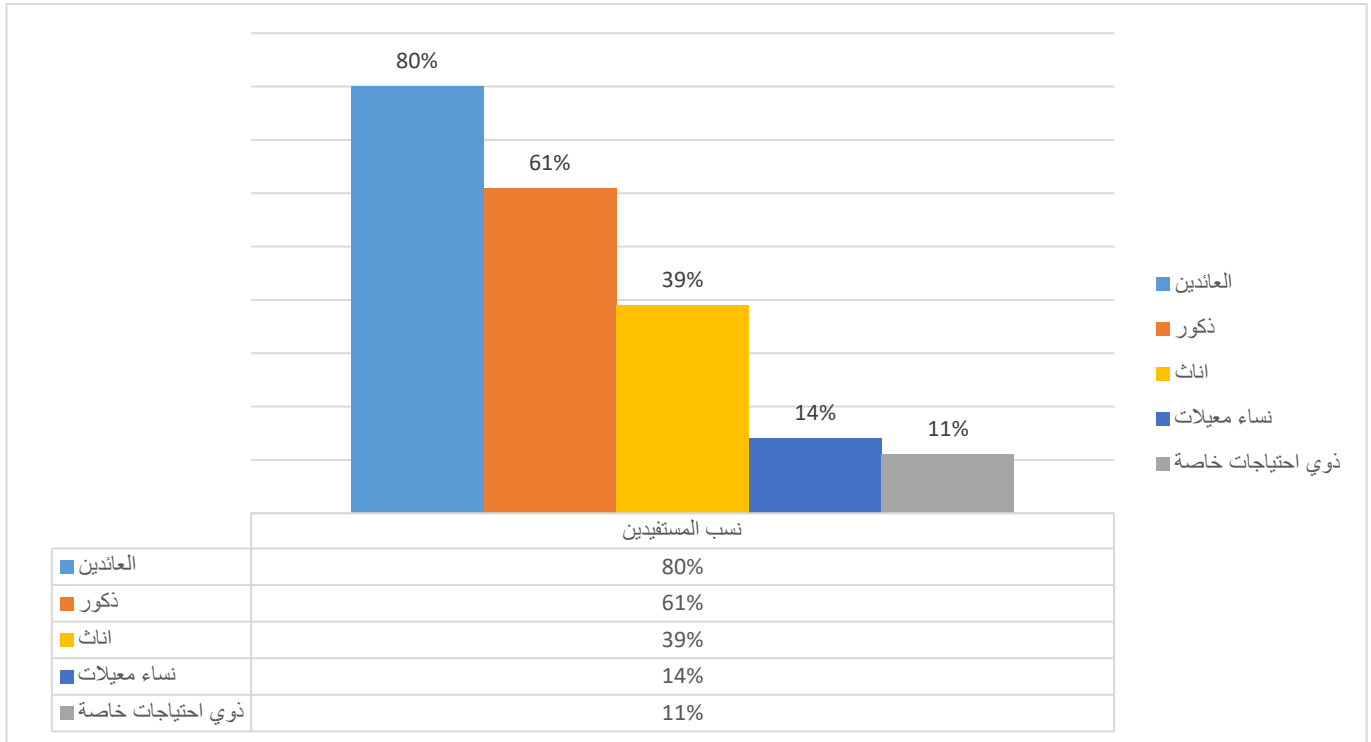

- Persons with disabilities.
- Women-headed household.
- SGBV survivors.
- Unemployed youth.
